DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference character(s) not mentioned in the description: 63, 72, 83, 90-92, 104, 105, 116, 150, 250, 505-508, 702 and 812. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d), or amendment to the specification to add the reference character(s) in the description in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(b) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 27-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Astle (5703966) in view of Kato (6415055).

In regard to claim 27 Astle discloses a method for encoding and decoding video including:

receiving encoded motion vector data, encoded predictive mode information, and an encoded prediction error signal (Astle Fig. 2 note receiver receiving encoded signals);

selecting, in accordance with the motion vector data and the predictive mode information, one from (a) generation of a predictive macroblock from a specific reference frame of the plurality of reference frames, (b) generation of a plurality of macroblocks from the plurality of frames so as to generate an average value of the plurality of reference frames as a predictive macroblock, or (c) generation of a predictive macroblock by a linear extrapolation prediction or linear interpolation prediction (Astle Fig. 4 and col. 8 line 40 to col. 9 line 13 note Astle discloses that a B macroblock can be predicted from (a) a specific one of a forward and backward reference, or (b) the average of the forward and backward reference, also col. 11 line 63 to col. 12 line 8 discloses (c) macroblocks interpolated at intervals between the forward and backward references other than halfway between which is linear interpolation) ; and generating a decoded frame by adding the generated predictive macroblock and the predictive error signal (Astle col. 8 lines 50 to 55).

Astle further discloses transmitting predictive mode information (Astle col. 8 lines 50 to 55). It is noted that Astle does not disclose details including first and second flags. However, the use of flags to indicate coding modes was common and notoriously well known in the art at the time of the invention, as an example Kato discloses transmitting a motion compensation mode 'flag' and an error flag to indicate using either a specific reference, or a bidirectional average (Kato col. 21 line1 to col. 22 line 5). It is therefore considered obvious that one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention would have recognized the advantage of using flags to indicate the encoding mode in Astle as was well known in the art, in order to communicate the coding mode in a manner that requires little computation to decode.

In regard to claim 28 refer to the statements made in the rejection of claim 27 above.
